The New Hospital

MORE NEWS ABOUT IT

IT is now certain that a new hospital which has been the subject of much in Town will be built at Goodwill.

It is reliably reported that work will be commencing soon. For this purpose Government intends bringing over from St. Lucia supplementary staff who will assist the Public Works Department in the building project.

What will become of the present hospital when the new one is completed is now a matter of conjecture. Perhaps the public might make suggestions that the Administration is sure to welcome

We are inclined to give thought to the advisability of applying the present hospital premises for use as an industrial school, or arts and craft training centre.

Government must be complimented on their adverting to the urgent need for a proper hospital here. We suggest that it should be called the "Colonial Hospital" and not "Roseau Hospital".

It must be hoped that Government will do their best to step up at the same time the laying of streets and pipes at Goodwill, to encourage purchasers to go ahead with their building plans.
